Stage Play - In the Classroom Year 1 Assembly Presentation

Our Year 1 students transformed the stage into a mini theatre as students swapped roles between teacher and student!

You should have seen their faces light up when they got to sit in the teacher's chair! From using "grown-up" voices to pretending to teach A, B, Cs, they took their roles very seriously (well, mostly).

The giggles were non-stop, but so was the learning. Through this simple role swap, students discovered what it's like on both sides of the classroom and it was a great way to practice empathy, communication, and active listening.

We were so proud of our budding performers!

STEAM FAIR - 2025

Last Saturday, Imperial hosted the most incredible STEAM Fair, and wow—what a day it was!

The hall of our school was buzzing with excitement as parents, students from government schools, and even officers from the Education Department came to see what we'd been working on. We were honored to have Puan Sim Joan Meah as our guest of honour!

Walking around the fair felt like stepping into a science wonderland. Students proudly showed off their hard work—from eye-opening displays about endangered ocean life to experiments revealing just how much sugar is hiding in our favourite drinks and foods. You could see how much effort everyone put into their projects!

But the best part? Watching our early-years students demonstrate static electricity by rubbing balloons on our guests' heads! Seeing everyone's hair stand up was hilarious and adorable at the same time. Those little scientists absolutely stole the show!

We've always known how capable our students are, but the STEAM Fair was a true testament to their curiosity, creativity, and dedication.

“What do you want for Christmas?”

Early-Years Assembly Presentation

This must be the cutest Christmas performance in the history of Imperial's performance and presentations! It was early-years turn to wow us and they certainly did when they sang, "What Do You Want for Christmas?" and one by one, students came out holding the things they really want for Christmas.

Some had toys, some had books, and then—wait for it—Javis rode a bike right across the stage! Everyone gasped and then cheered. It was so cool!

The little ones sang really well and looked so happy up there. You could tell they practiced a lot. Their smiles were so big, they were excited to be on stage and show the audience show the audience what they had been working on.

The crowd loved it. There's something special about watching the youngest students perform—they're just so innocent and honest about what makes them happy.

Great job, early-years! You made us smile and got us all excited for Christmas!

Year 4 English Presentation

Year 4 wowed us all with their fantastic animal presentations during assembly!

Each student shared cool and surprising facts about different creatures from around the world. From tiny insects to mighty mammals, we learned so many amazing things about the animal kingdom! The students spoke clearly and confidently, making their presentations fun and interesting for everyone.

Great job, Year 4 – you were absolutely brilliant!
